ISAAC HERON, Watch-Maker,
At the corner by the COFFEE-HOUSE, sign an arched Dial; has for sale,
A Few very fashionable warranted watches, in gold, silver, gilt and green cases, which he will sell as low as they are retailed in London.—Also, Ladies elegant steel watch-chains; mens do. seals, trinkets, glasses, springs, strings, and keys by the dozen; enamelled-dials; elegant do. for the Craft, Ancient, and Modern.—Elegant brooch-jewels for their best breasts; sword-knots, fuddries, &c. with Straps, which more beautiful makes the fair;
And lockets, various, for the hair.
The watches he repairs, he does as well and charges as low for, as his neighbours, i. e. as near the London prices as possible. To say more, would neither be prudent nor honest. As usual, he warrants their performance—not for ever, but one year, and if they be not very bad, for ten; after the first, at 4s. per ann. for each, cleaning; accidents and mismanagement of them excepted; but,
Should the all-sustaining hand, him drop,
His movements all, springs, wheels, hands must stop!
Then, like the tale of "a bear and fiddle,"
This bargain—"breaks off in the middle."
He is extremely grateful to his friends, and the indulgent public, for their smiles and favours, and really means to merit a continuance of them.
It is high time the following watches were returned him, viz. H. Clay, London, 3630—Thomas Hills, London, 11148, and a large old one, John Hanwell, London, missing—all in silver cases. The brethren of the Pivot are requested to stop them, or either, if offered for repair or sale.

ROAD-LOTTERY,
WILL begin drawing the 30th day of this instant, at Powles Hook, where tickets may be had. It is to be hoped that all gentlemen of a public spirit will encourage it; also those who would be glad to see a good road for carriages from Powles Hook to Albany, on the west shore; the utility whereof must be obvious to every discerning person. It is desired of all persons that have had the disposal of the tickets, to return them by that day, that are not disposed of, or otherwise they will be deemed sold.

A Woman with a good breast of milk, would take a child to nurse in her house: For character and particulars, inquire of the Printer.

BENJAMIN HILDRETH, DISTILLER,
TAKES this method to acquaint his friends and customers, that he has for sale, at the New Brick Distill House, near Peck's Slip—A quantity of neat brandy Geneva, spirits of wine, cherry brandy, an cordials of different sorts, such as clove, lemon, orange, all fours, Doctor-Steven's, tansy and anisated waters. Also of the best quality of Jamaica spirits. Well-India and New-York rum; to be sold wholesale and retail, at the most reasonable rates.

The Magazines to the day of shipping, and abundance of other articles, of which catalogue will be provided.

MAREDAnt's Antiscorbutic Drops.
A fresh parcel are just landed, at 14s. a bottle, they have performed a great number of remarkable cures, of which certificates may be seen at James Rivington's (where the medicine may be had).
The following is amongst them.
To Mr. NORTON, Surgeon in Golden Square, St. Paul, near Bristol, March 18, 1772.
I Think I should be undervaluing the benefit I have received, and greatly deficient in point of gratitude to you, did I not lay before the public my late deplorable situation, and the benefit I have received by your Maredant's Drops. My case was this. About a year and a half since, I got a cold, (by riding to Bath in a rainy day) succeeded by a malignant fever, which, with difficulty, I survived: Some months after this, I perceived an eruption on my arms and legs, and afterwards on the face, to such a violent degree, that it was one entire scab, and smelt intolerably; my eyes, nose, and mouth, were almost closed up, which obliged me, for some time, to live on spoon meat only: I had also three inveterate ulcers on my left leg, and was reduced to a mere skeleton. I had the advice of the most eminent of the faculty, at Bristol, to no purpose. In this deplorable situation was I, when I heard of the almost incredible cures performed by your drops: By taking them, the ulcers in my leg are healed, the eruption has disappeared, and I enjoy a better state of health than I have for these several years past. I desire you will make this public, for the benefit of my fellow sufferers.
I am, with Gratitude,
Your much obliged humble Servant,
ROBERT SHIELDS.

EIGHT DOLLARS REWARD.
RAN away, about a fortnight ago, from his master, living in the Bowery, near New York, ROBERT M'FALL, about 6 feet high, pitted with the small pox, short light curled hair, and speaks slow, with the Scotch accent; had on when he went off, a blue short coat, with breeches of the same, brown yarn stockings, and tow shirt, shoes half worn, with odd brass buckles; carried with him a long brown homespun coat and breeches, the warp yellow linen, and flannel brown worsted, and the breeches patched with a different cloth; one pair of half worn shoes with some other clothes. Whoever brings him above a road away to PETER STUYVESANT in the Bowery, near New-York, or to PATRICK M'DAVITT, merchant, in New-York, shall be paid the above reward.
This Runaway was born in the North of Ireland.

On Monday arrived in 6 Weeks and 3 Days from Falmouth, the Lord Hyde Packet Boat Captain Taylor, by whom we have the following Advices.
CONSTANTINOPLE, September 14.

ALL the Turks who do not belong to this capital are either sent to the army or the places they belong to. All persons who were out of work are employed on the public buildings, and in short every method is taking as if a revolution was apprehended.
Warsaw, Oct. 12. By the late partition of Poland, the King of Prussia will be possided of a country of 900 square leagues; Austria of one of 2700; and Russia of one of 3440, so that the whole dismemberment amounts to 7040 square leagues. The most valuable are those seized by the Prussians and Austrians; that of the Russians, though near as much as the other two, is less valuable.
Warsaw, Oct. 14. The Russians have delivered Lubawski, one of the King's assistants, to the tribunal of the Marshal of the Crown.
Accounts have been received here of a fresh suspension of arms for forty days between the Russians and Turks, and of the renewal of the negotiation for peace.

The Court of Vienna has declared to the Porte, that unless the peace be concluded in four weeks, she cannot avoid, in pursuance of her treaty with Russia, acting in concert with that power against the Turks.
Warsaw, Oct. 15. Many of the Nobles of Great Poland have caused to be printed and published a declaration, importing that since the Ministry of the King of Poland at Warsaw take no measures to end the troubles of the Kingdom, they have resolved to constitute a permanent Council, of which the Prince Augustus Solowski, Palatine of Ghelna, is nominated President, with 14 assistants. They have empowered this Council to treat with foreign Courts, declaring they can no longer depend on the government of Warsaw.

Tripoly July 14. The Grand Emir of the Druses has made an incursion on some hordes of Mutualis established near Gebail, in places dependent upon him, and suspected to be in league with their countrymen. About 300 of these unfortunate people were massacred, and about 40 families are retired to Tripoly, where they are protected.

Constantinople, Sept. 3. Advice has been just received here, that a large fleet of Russians, some of the ships apparently of very great force, has been seen in the Black Sea off Trebisond; likewise that they had landed a great number of men between the above place and Amasia. This news has occasioned much consternation, as every person conjectures that it is designed against the capital; therefore every necessary preparation is taking to oppose their design. A body of 30,000 Janissaries and 8000 Spahis are ordered to march immediately into Natolia, to stop the march of the Russians before they reach Angari; orders are also given to reinforce the fleet, which is to proceed up the Black Sea with the utmost dispatch; and an express is sent up to the Bassa of Kaylaria, commanding him to take the field with all the troops under his direction.

Vistula, Oct. 15. It is assured that the Court of Berlin, in consequence of the representations that have been made respecting the new duties imposed upon all ships that go in and out of the port of Dantzick, has found out a qualification, which, it is hoped, will be approved of by all the nations interested in the commerce of that city.

Poland, Oct. 16. We learn from that part of Lithuania occupied by the Russians, that the inhabitants are allowed the term of three months to dispose of their effects and retire, or to take the oaths of allegiance to Russia. In the mean time Mr. Smogorzewski, Archbishop of Polock, for the Greeks united to the Romish church, has already taken the oaths to the Empress of Russia, together with all his Clergy, on condition that his Church shall enjoy its privileges, and not be subject to the Synod of Petersburg. The Jesuits of the same place have likewise sworn homage to Russia, reserving to themselves certain rights and privileges.

Berlin, Oct. 24. The King has published an edict, by which the trade of sea salt is granted to a Company of Merchants exclusively; and the same edict prohibits the sending to foreign countries any of the products of the Bishoprick of Ermeland.

Hague, Oct. 27. The news of the renewal of the negotiation between the Russians and the Turks is confirmed here from Berlin and Warsaw.

L O N D O N.

Oct. 29. The King of Prussia has a demand of 700,000l. on Great Britain; and he has already declared that he expects immediate payment.

A memorial has lately been sent to the Court of Spain, demanding satisfaction for the injuries several British subjects have received from the Spanish power in the West Indies. It is said to be written in the most spirited terms, and at the instance of the Earl of Rochfort.

Ten ships of the line were put in commission yesterday; and it is expected an equal number will be commissioned on Monday next.

The insurance on a war for one year has risen, within a few days, from five to twelve guineas; at which latter price very few will underwrite.

Several houses of rendezvous are opened at Portsmouth, Plymouth, and Wapping.

From the above circumstances, a speedy war is thought to be inevitable.

A report prevails at the west end of the town, that the Earl of Dartmouth has lately signified his intention of resigning his new office, owing to a favourite scheme of government giving him great disgust.

Yesterday Lord Chief Baron Parker attended the Levee at St. James's, and resigned his place as chief Baron of the Exchequer.

Extract of a letter from Warsaw, Oct. 7.
"It is now very plain, that the dissolution of the congress at Fockzany, is merely and solely ascribed to the Emperor, who absolutely has demanded from the Porte the provinces of Belgrade, Servien, Bosnia, and Bessarabia."

Great diligence, we are assured, is now used to bury the two Houses against the meeting of Parliament.

A letter from the Hague says, "The States General have sent a memorial to his Prussian Majesty, asserting the independency of the city of Dantzick, for which the States are one of the Guarantees. An answer thereto is expected with the utmost impatience."

Extract of a letter from Berlin, October 10.

"It borders upon the marvellous, to see a glimmering of virtue in the heart of a modern hero; but it is certain, that Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick has actually declined to accept the place of Governor of an usurped people."

They write from Warsaw, that several bodies of Polish troops are now raising in every part of the kingdom, by order of the King of Poland.

A letter from Dantzick mentions, that 5000 of the Prussian cavalry have been lately quartered on the inhabitants of that city for the winter.

We hear that some material changes in the government of America and the West Indies are now in agitation.

Letters from Rome advise, that the step taken by the Pope in taking out of the hands of the Jesuits the Great Seminary, and likewise the Irish Seminary so long established in that city, is a great proof of the decrease of the credit of those Fathers; and that some people even look upon it as a prelude to the suppression of that order.

Advice from Cadiz inform us, that letters had lately arrived from Chili, in South America, giving an account of a general insurrection breaking out throughout that whole province, among the Indians. It is added, that there has been already a most incredible slaughter of the natives of Spain and those of the Spanish descent.

Oct. 31. On the Lord Mayor's breaking up the Court yesterday, much hissing ensued, and the cry of, stop him! stop him! ran through the Hall. Alderman Townsend imagining the Lord Mayor was in danger of being insulted, conducted him to his coach, declaring his abhorrence of the licentiousness of some of the people, and calling repeatedly for the Sheriffs.

The Lord Mayor elect went to the Mansion-house in the state coach with the present Lord Mayor; where he and Alderman Shakespear dined with his Lordship.

The Court of Aldermen voted as follows:

For Ald. Townsend.	For Ald. Wilkes.
Ladbroke	Asgill
Alfop	Bridgen
Stephenson	Turner
Glyn	Crosby
Harley	Kirkman
Plumbe	Bull
Oliver	Lewes
Sawbridge

did not vote.

Lord Mayor	Townsend
Shakespear	Roffeter
Wilkes	Kennet

Absent.

Halifax	Banks
Trecothick	Edsall

When the declaration was made in favour of Alderman Townsend, there was great confusion in the Hall for some time, as the friends of that gentleman clapped and huzzed, and those of Alderman Wilkes hissed and booed; which some time after subsided.

Mr. Alderman Townsend's Address to the Livery yesterday at Guild Hall.

Gentlemen,

"I flatter myself the uniformity of my conduct has hitherto been such, that professions on my part will easily be dispensed with. Sensible of the high honour conferred upon me this day, by an election to the Chief Magistracy, I shall, be assured, gentlemen, studiously endeavour to discharge the duties of my station, so as to merit the applause of honest men; their approbation I deem a sufficient reward—their esteem my greatest glory—I look for no other return. To obtain which, I will continue inflexible in the principles I have hitherto professed; from these nothing shall warp me—neither friendship shall allure me, nor enmity bias me; and conscious of my own integrity, I will labour to deserve the confidence of my fellow citizens, by acting, on every occasion, as becomes a friend to the liberties of my country."

[The speech of Alderman Wilkes, we are obliged to postpone.]

They write from the Hague, that the Chevalier de St. George arrived at that place lately, in company with two gentlemen, in a vessel from Ireland.

By several private letters from the continent, a very extraordinary piece of intelligence has transpired, the substance of which is, that his Polish Majesty has declared to the Courts of Vienna, Petersburg, and Berlin, his resolution of resigning the Crown, in consequence of his not being able to support the monarchical dignity; and that the Court of Vienna has warmly proposed Charles Edward Stewart, as a candidate for the Polish diadem, which, it is probable, in case of a resignation, he will possess, as he is descended in a direct line from the celebrated John Sobiesky, who in the last century, at the head of a handful of Poles, defeated an army of two hundred thousand Ottomans, and made them sue for peace.

The conduct of Messrs. Oliver and Sawbridge, in voting against Mr. Wilkes on Thursday last, is universally condemned both by friends and foes; they declare themselves attached to Mr. Wilkes's cause, however they disapprove his conduct in private life, and yet counteract this cause the moment in which they have an opportunity of serving it most essentially.

November 4. The negotiation between the Turks and Russians, now in agitation, is said to be owing to the great influence the King of Prussia has lately gained with the Grand Signor. The knowing ones imagine he is endeavouring to make up this breach, in order to employ the force of Mahometans some where else.

Extract of a letter from the Morea, Sept. 14.

"The Russian ships are daily landing a number of men in different parts of the Morea, and those are constantly joined by a number of Greeks, &c. so that they are very formidable; they have already attacked and plundered several rich towns, but shew the greatest humanity to the people. The Russian commanders have caused a manifesto of the Empress's to be made public, wherein she declares that she looks upon it as a religious duty to free the Greeks from the Turkish slavery; and she has promised protection and rewards to those who would voluntarily enter into her army, and the severest punishment to those who refuse. This, added to the best treatment when they do insist, powerfully induces the Greeks to join the Russian army daily, and it is thought they will soon be masters of the whole Morea."

Extract of a letter from Dantzick, Oct. 14.

"The situation of this once flourishing city is now really deplorable; deprived of the advantages the inhabitants used to enjoy, oppressed by numbers of troops quartered upon them, subject to a foreign yoke and loaded with taxes, they are to be pitied, but it is in vain to complain. The Prussian Monarch has taken care to preserve this invaluable place from the fear of a foe, but if he continues his present proceedings he will effectually depopulate the city; and if he puts his threats in execution of issuing an order to prevent any person emigrating from the city without his previous leave, he will certainly make himself a formidable enemy, if ever the King of Poland should endeavour to regain his lost dominions, which he certainly will, and it is expected soon. The citizens have sent frequent petitions to different Courts, (especially to that of Great Britain) but nothing avails, those powers either have it not at heart, or are afraid to draw upon themselves a powerful enemy, so that the King of Prussia may enslave as many more cities as he has already, without their ever stirring to prevent it."

Extract of a letter from Petersburg, dated Oct. 15.

"The report which has been circulated of the renewal of the armistice between the Russians and Turks is most certainly true, as is the disgrace of Count Gregory Orlov, though the account of his being put to death or banished is not true. The Empress is not yet sufficiently convinced, that the Count was too precipitate in breaking up the congress at Fockzany, and the arrest only took place at the instance of some powerful Courts, who envied his abilities, and the great influence he had over all the Ministers of the Imperial Court. It is most certain that he did not go beyond his private orders, which if he is prosecuted with rigour he threatens to make public, though his life may be a sacrifice for his courage; and it is universally thought the Court will be happy to coincide with him, rather than expose to the face of Europe, instructions, which if known, would greatly derogate from the character which the Empress now wishes to bear."

N E W P O R T, (Rhode-Island) Dec. 21.

We hear a letter to our Governor from Admiral Montagu, was read at the General Assembly, held at Providence, last week: In which letter the Admiral, we are told, requests his Honor the Governor, that Capt. Keeler of his Majesty's ship Mercury, now in this harbour, might be permitted to come on shore, without being insulted, and protected from arrests, &c.—!! Now, it is certain that Capt. Keeler has often been on shore, in this town and other parts of the colony, and we never heard of his having received the least imaginable insult: But as for his being protected from arrests, we are humbly of opinion, that neither Capt. Keeler nor his Excellency, Admiral Montagu himself, has any more right of protection from arrests, than any other the least or poorest of his Majesty's subjects—For the truth of which opinion, we are not afraid to appeal to the people of Great Britain; though we don't choose to be transported thither for trial.

Query. Whether Capt. Keeler will publicly declare, that one single attempt was ever made to insult him in this town?

Last evening arrived the Lizard frigate, and this morning an armed schooner, both from Boston.

The Hon. General Assembly of this colony, which sat last week at Providence, adjourned to the second Monday in next month, then to meet at East Greenwich.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Boston, to his friend in this town.

"I here inclose you an extract of a letter from a gentleman in England to another in Boston. In confirmation of the truth of which, the Admiral received a packet by an express, which arrived in this town on Tuesday evening last, ordering the ships to your harbour; in consequence of which orders, the ships are now getting ready as fast as possible; they were kept to work all day yesterday, and commanded to be ready to sail on Tuesday afternoon, or Wednesday morning at farthest."

ny: It is to be hoped, from this avowed disposition towards our Rhode Island brethren, that he will meet with a proper reception among them. I have just received information which you may depend upon.—The high commission court especially appointed with novel, unconstitutional, and exorbitant powers, for the trial of the persons concerned in burping the schooner, are forthwith to repair to Rhode Island for that purpose, and are to be accompanied with his high mightiness the A—.

"The regiment at Castle William; a regiment from New-York, and a third regiment are immediately to march for Rhode Island; and unless you exhibit a quantum sufficit of passive obedience and non-resistance, the same tragedy may be acted in Newport and Providence, which makes the 5th of March so memorable at Boston."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of character in England, to his friend at Boston.

"Our tyrants in administration are greatly exasperated with the late manoeuvre of the brave Rhode-Islanders; as a regard to the rights of the subject and the principles of justice, never marked the measures of the present wretched conductors of the wheels of government; you will not be alarmed when I tell you that they have determined to vacate the charter of that colony; to effect this purpose, which, in their own apprehension will be attended with some difficulty: Admiral M— is ordered, with the small craft which are with him, to line the harbour of Rhode Island, with positive orders to apprehend the persons concerned in the enterprise abovementioned. Awed by the formidable appearance of this hectoring commander and his gallant squadron, these bitter pills are to be rammed down their throats; but the friends of true British freedom are not without hopes, that the stomachs of that heroic colony will reject the dose prepared for them:—Be united our dear suffering brethren, be steady, and success awaits you: Freedom, glorious Freedom will be the purchase. We believe that the ancient British spirit of independence which once blest this Island, has improved by transplantation, and preserves its vigour in the breasts of Americans; cherish it my dear friends! And by relieving yourselves save the small remnant of the virtuous in Britain."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Boston, to his friend in this town, dated Dec. 14, 1772.

"I would have you inform your townsmen, that the Ad—l has hoisted his flag on board one of the frigates, and will sail for Newport in a day or two; and is determined to lay your town and Providence in ashes; he swore by GOD, some time ago, that he would burn the town of Providence to ashes, Mr. P—t. of this town, will attest to it; hope you will try him for treason. 'Tis surmised that they are going to deprive you of your Charter; hope you will give it up peaceably, like true Friends to government, and not contend with your superiors, but be subject to the higher powers, for the powers that be, are ordained (I believe) of the d—l." BOSTON, December 24.
From St. Vincent's we hear that 3 weeks ago the English troops there, were in good health, that about 300 of the Charaiba had surrendered to the English General, who sent them on board the ships to prevent their return to their brethren.—That there had been several skirmishes between small parties, but no general attack was expected to be made till the Admiral arrived from Antigua, where his ships were repairing the damages they had received in the late hurricane.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.
Capt. Wilson, from the Bay of Honduras, on Sunday the 6th inst. in lat. 24, spoke a ship from New York, bound to Antigua, out two days.

We hear that the schooner Charming Nancy, Capt. Hand, from this port for the West-Indies, foundered off Bermuda; and the crew, after being 48 hours in the boat, was taken up by the ship Paisley, Hyndman, and carried into Virginia.

Capt. May, from St. Croix, the 20th ult. spoke the brig Joseph, Owen Shourt, going in there from New-York, out 18 days, all well.

On Thursday last departed this life, in the 58th Year of his age, Mr. DAVID HALL, of this city, printer.—We hear his remains are to be interred to-morrow afternoon, in Christ Church burying-ground.—As a citizen he was greatly esteemed, in the character of an upright man, and a friend to the poor:—His abilities in his profession, his prudence and impartiality in the conduct of the press, renders his death a public loss.

The following Piece, was desired to be inserted last Week, December 24, but omitted for Want of Room.

To the PRINTER of the NEW-YORK JOURNAL.

SIR,
THE approaching anniversary festival, is in commemoration of the birth of our blessed Saviour, to whom every individual of the human race, is under infinite obligations. Who being the most exalted and excellent of created beings, voluntarily suffered every indignity and distress that human nature could sustain, and even the most cruel and ignominious death, in order to purchase blessings for us!—It is hardly possible to conceive that any one who really believes all this, can be so amazingly ungrateful, as to refuse joining with a sincerely thankful heart, in the commemoration of so great a benefactor.

I shall not now attempt to mention all the particulars that this subject naturally suggests, but only add a few words to those who profess a belief of the doctrines of Christianity, and pretend to commemorate the birth of the Saviour of mankind. Tho' he made sufficient atonement for the sins of the whole world, and yielded on our behalf, a perfect obedience to the whole law by which we were bound, so as to entitle every one that would accept of it to all the blessings promised to perfect obedience; yet he came to save none without their own concurrence—in compliance with certain conditions, which he has put it in the power of every man to perform.

A change of their intentions and principles of action, into a conformity to his own, was absolutely necessary to qualify them for the enjoyment of the blessings he purchased for them; and he did all that was necessary on his part, to enable them freely to do all he required on theirs.

We may use our best endeavours if we will, and he will assist and accept us if we do. He has set us an example of purity which we are bound to imitate to the utmost of our power. Every evil practice is in itself inconsistent with the happiness of our natures, and utterly contrary to the design of every Christian Festival. All intemperance in eating and drinking, all rioting and drunkenness, quarrelling, swearing, Lewdness and obscenity, and all other vicious actions upon this and the like occasions, have more than their common enormity, they are highly wicked and abominable, and are great insults to him we pretend to honour.

We ought to celebrate a Christian festival like Christians, in the exercise of the amiable virtues of Christianity, which are perfectly consistent with cheerfulness and every reasonable pleasure—Hospitality, benevolence and charity, upon these occasions, ought to have an unusual flow and indulgence; animosity, and every interruption to friendship and social felicity, ought to be removed and for ever buried in oblivion. How happy should we be if we lived in a continual reciprocation of good offices!

Our rejoicings should be with decency, temperance and sobriety. The assembling of Negroes, servants, boys and other disorderly persons, in noisy companies in the streets, where they spend the time in gaming, drunkenness, quarrelling, swearing &c. to the great disturbance of the neighbourhood, is so highly scandalous both to religion and civil government, that it is hoped the Magistrates will interpose, to suppress the enormity.—And especially the barbarous and abominable custom of throwing at cocks. To abuse and torture an innocent defenceless and useful animal, merely for sport, is such base cowardice and barbarous cruelty that one would not imagine human nature could be guilty of. But to do this on a Christian festival, is a diabolical abuse of the institution, and makes it resemble the sanguinary sacrifices of heathenish idolatry, nor could the greatest enemies of Christianity have easily devised a practice more likely to destroy its influence, and bring it into contempt.

NEW-YORK, December 31.
Capt. Cummings, in 35 Days from Madeira, informs us, That he sailed from thence in Company with Capt. Kendal of this Port, bound for the Coast of Africa; and that the Ship Peggy, Capt. York, for Philadelphia, and the Diligence Sloop of War, for the Jamaica Station, were to sail in a few Days after him.

Capt. Woodhouse, in the Snow Sally, from the Bay of Honduras for this Port, was cast away about the middle of October, in a violent Gale of Wind, on the West End of the Island of Rattan, the Vessel intirely lost, but the Crew with the Cargo saved.

Capt. Russell, from St. Kitts, in Lat. 26, 33, some Days ago, spoke with the Sloop Providence, Capt. Ramsey, from St. Kitts, for South-Carolina, out 25 Days.

Last Wednesday the Mercury Packet Boat, Capt. Dillon, arrived here with the October Mail, from Falmouth, having sailed from thence the 19th of that Month, in Company with the Sandwich Packet, for South-Carolina. The 15th of December, in Lat. 38, 40, Lon. 62, Capt. Dillon spoke with the Sloop Elizabeth, Capt. Morrison, from Piscataqua for Dominica, out 4 Days.

The Ship Prince of Wales, Capt. M'Kenzie, from this Port for Dublin, was cast away on the Banks of Arklow the 27th of September, owing to the Negligence of his Pilot, within a few Leagues of Dublin Harbour; the Crew all but One Woman Passenger that was drowned, took to their Boat, and with much Difficulty saved their Lives. The Vessel soon after the struck overset, and was seen the next Day Bottom up, several Miles from the Land. Sundry small Vessels were dispatched after her to endeavour to recover her if possible.

Capt. Taylor, spoke with the following Vessels on his Passage.—November 15th, in Lat. 35, 42, a Snow from Dublin—and the 9th of December, in Lat. 37, 36, a Schooner from North Carolina, both for Antigua—and the 19th, in Lat. 32, 20, the Sloop John, Capt. Nathaniel Cook, 6 Days from New-Haven bound to St. Vincent's.

Ensign Kelly, of his Majesty's 18th Regiment, came Passenger in the Lord Hyde Packet, Captain Taylor.

Extra of a Letter from London.
"We have the pleasure to inform the public, that the Countess of Huntingdon, has purchased of the Heirs of the late Rev. Mr. Whitefield, their rights in the Orphan House in Georgia, in order more effectually to secure to the British Colonies the advantages of that Seminary, and Funder, a public blessing.—She has, to enlighten and superintend it, engaged proper persons, who are to sail in the Georgia Packet for that place, and are expected to arrive there almost as soon as this account."

The Grace, Captain Chambers, is arrived at Bristol.
We hear from Philadelphia, that Mr. DAVID RITTENHOUSE, A. M.* of that Place, was lately married to Miss HANNAH JACOBI.

[* This Gentleman, who by the mere Force of Genius and Application, has attained an Eminence in the Knowledge of Mechanics, and Astronomy, by which he has been enabled to construct and complete a Machine, which determines and exhibits, with an Exactness heretofore unknown, the periodical and respective Motions of all the Planets in our Solar System—A Performance which does great Honour to the Artist and his Country, and is highly useful to Mankind. The Public are interested in the Welfare of such a Character, and must receive an advantageous Idea of the Lady who has merited his Choice.]

[* Several Pieces from our Correspondents will be only noticed as soon as we have Room in the Paper, particularly the Letters from a Friend, and Old Ion.—Miss Tickle's Favour came to Hand, she may be assured her Correspondence will be highly acceptable, a profound Secrecy observed, and a Means of Conveyance (of which she will be informed) contrived to her Satisfaction, mean while she may use the same Means as before.]

A happy New Year to our Customers.

S. SP. SKINNER,

At the North-River, in New York,
MAKES the very best of this Country Rum; it is equal, if not superior, to the common West India Rum.—'tis well known, that he makes it of a wholesome clean Flavour, quite free from any Manner of offensive deadly stinking Hogoo, and of a substantial natural Proof, that will be sold for Cash, or usual Credit, or for Melasses, cheaper than the common Country Rum.—West India Strongest Proof, is also made at a very reasonable Price.

RICHARD WALDRON,

TAKES this method to acquaint his friends and customers, that he is removed from the corner apartment of his house at the Exchange, to the apartment where he formerly lived, opposite Mrs. Blaau's, where he continues to furnish gentlemen with lodging and good entertainment. He has for sale, China, glass and earthen ware, and liquors as usual.

POET'S CORNER.

A FAVOURITE AMUSEMENT.

SOME women take delight in dress,
And some in cards take pleasure;
Whilst others place their happiness
In heaping hoards of treasure:
In private some delight to live,
Their hidden charms unfolding;
But all mistake the sovereign bliss,
There's no such joy as Scolding.
The instant that I open my eyes,
Adieu all day to silence;
Before my neighbours they can rise,
They hear my tongue a mile hence:
When at the board I take my seat,
'Tis one continual story;
I eat and scold, and scold and eat,
My clack is ne'er at quiet.
Too fat, too lean, too hot, too cold,
I ever am complaining;
Too raw, too roast, too young, too old,
Each guest at table pining:
Let it be fowl, or fish, or fift,
Though of my own providing,
I still find fault with every dith;
Still every servant chiding.
But when to bed I go at night,
I surely lose a weeping;
For then I lose my great delight,
How can I scold when sleeping?
But this my pain doth mitigate,
And soon disperses sorrow;
Although to night it be too late,
I'll pay it off to-morrow.

To be sold at public VENDUE.

BY order of the corporation of the city of New-York, on Tuesday the 12th day of January next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the merchants coffee house, sundry valuable lots of ground, lying to the westward of Cortlandt's Hook, fronting on one side to Cherry Street, and on the other side to Water Street, being in length one hundred and twenty feet; three of which said lots, are bounded northerly upon the ground of the widow of John Provost, and are together in breadth, front and rear, two hundred and fifty feet; three others of said lots, are also bounded northerly upon the ground of the heirs of Harmanus Rutgers, deceased, and are in breadth, front and rear, one hundred feet each; and also one other of said lots, is bounded northerly upon the ground of Hendrick Rutgers, being the most easterly lot there lately laid out, and is contiguous to a slip of eighty feet wide, which said lot is in breadth, front and rear, fifty feet, and likewise the water lots fronting the same, two hundred feet into the river. The above parcels of ground will be divided into lots of twenty five feet front, in order to make it convenient to such as may incline to purchase a single lot. The conditions will be made known on the day of sale, and an indisputable title given to the purchaser.

Signed by order of the Common Council,
AUGUSTUS V. CORTLANDT, Clerk.

NEW LANDS to be SOLD.

Upon very moderate and easy terms, in the great Patent of Quakerburgh, or Kayaderos, in the County of Albany. This patent was lately divided under the partition act, by Col. Glen, of Schenectady, Mr. Christopher Yates of Albany, and Mr. Thomas Palmer, of New Windsor, in Ulster county Commissioners, and Mr. Charles Webb, of Stamford, in Connecticut, the Surveyor; by whom all purchases may be informed of the nature and quality of this extensive Tract, which is capable of containing many townships, and advantageously situated to the North and West of Albany, between Hudson's and the Mohawk's river. Mr. Palmer's general account of the patent is as follows:

This tract has many pleasant and advantageous ponds and streams of Water abounding with trout and other fish; Kayaderos Kill is the most considerable creek in the patent, and that called Saraghtoge Lake the largest of the lakes. The soil is in general very good, from opposite to Fort Edward down to Saraghtoge along Hudson's river, and from thence on a North westerly direction to the North West bounds of the patent, so as to include the southerly part of Kayaderos Creek and its branches; and so southerly and south easterly to the patented lands on the Mohawk River, is excellent land, the soil deep and fertile—the timber large and thrifty, and chiefly beech, maple, birch, basswood, butternut and white pine. This part of the tract is well situated, the communication easy and the distance short, and its front no where more than four miles from the Mohawk River; the land generally flat and free from stones. As to the more northern part of the patent near the head of Kayaderos Kill, it is mountainous, but the mountains are accessible and not so rocky as is common to other high lands. Half of the remaining part of the patent, which lies in a triangular form, is as good as the first parcel above described, and the other half tho' light and sandy, will produce good Indian corn and rye. There is a great quantity of low land on Kayaderos Creek, as rich as the Flats of Esopus or Schenectady.

The particular parcels to be sold by the subscribers, are these:

Lot No. XIII in the IIIrd Alotment of 205
Lot No. XIII in the IVth — 588
Lot No. IV in the XIIIth — 1880

In all—2673 Acres.

These three tracts lie to the west of Schenectady, and adjoin each other, beginning at the distance of one mile and extending to 3 miles from the north side of the Mohawk's River—they are watered by a stream called Eva's Killitie.

Lot No. X in the VIth Alotment 1227 acres. This tract adjoins the east side of a flourishing village to the northward of Schenectady, and to the westward of Saraghtoge, called Ball's town, which is about 20 miles to the northward of Albany and was settled by Connecticut farmers, in Connection with the Rev. Mr. Ball, late minister of Bedford, in West Chester county. A fine stream from the long lake in the town, runs through the west end of the lot down to the Round Lake, and thence to Hudson's river.

Lot No. XI in the VIth Alotment, being about 65 acres, within half a mile of the Mohawk's river, and to the southward of Ball's town.

Lot No. I in the VIIth Alotment, in two parcels; one of 255 acres adjoining the Mohawk's river, and is about three miles west of the old lowland village of Neshigone: The other parcel of 225 acres, lies to the south of Ball's town, at the end of the long lake, contiguous to William Apple's patent.

Lot No. XII in Alotment VIII. 877 acres, Southward of Saraghtoge and contiguous to Anthony's Kill, and about 3 miles and a half west from Hudson's river.

Lot No. II in Alotment IX contains 1783 acres, exclusive of the round lake at the head of Anthony's Kill, is 6 and a half miles from Hudson's river one and a half mile to the eastward of Ball's town, and three and a half to the southward of Saraghtoge lake, which is a fine body of Water above a mile wide, and about six or seven miles long, abounding with herring and fish of various kinds:

Lot No. IV in the Xth Alotment, about 70 acres, one mile from Hudson's river, and adjoining the north end of Saraghtoge.

Lot No. IX in XIVth Alotment, 2500 acres, nearly adjoins the N. W. corner of Ball's town, and distant about ten miles from the Mohawk river; has several fine streams and a large parcel of wild meadow.

Lot No. XII in XVth Alotment, 684 acres, near the N. E. corner of Ball's town, about three miles from the celebrated salt springs; is watered by Kayaderos Creek and Mourn Creek, consists partly of rich low land on both sides of the great creek, which is navigable by canoes down to the lake of Saraghtoge.

Lot No. II in the XVIth Alotment, 2300 acres, the south west corner, but 8 and a half miles from the Mohawk river; the west branch of Kayaderos Creek, winds through the middle of the lot, which contains a great quantity of wild meadow, and low land, drowned by Beaver dams.

Lot No. VII in XVIIth Alotment, 2334 acres, N. W. from Saraghtoge, and 9 and a half miles from Hudson's river. Intersected at the north end by Snook Kill; and at the south end has the united branches of the creek, emptying itself into the Owl Pond, near Saraghtoge lake; This lot adjoins the salt springs.

Lot No. IX in XVIIIth Alotment, 1000 acres, N. W. from Col. Schuyler's mills, on the fish kill, at Saraghtoge, and not five miles from Hudson's river.

Lot No. X in XIXth Alotment, 1245 acres, lying on the west branch of Hudson's river; is five miles to the northward of Col. Schuyler's mills, where there is a fine fishery for herring, (many hundred barrels of which are taken there every year) and but half a mile from Jessop's mills, contiguous to the north side of fort Miller.

Lot No. XI in XXth Alotment, 1009 acres, also on the west bank of Hudson's river, from whence there is a ferry kept to Fort Edward; it has a quantity of low lands on the river side, that have been long improved.

Lot No. IX in XXIII Alotment, 3520 acres, six miles to the northward of Ball's town; and the S. W. corner of it is 12 miles from the Mohawk's river, and near the new road from Schenectady, to the lands on the N. side of the fourth west branch of Hudson's river.

Lot No. III in XXIth Alotment, 1763 acres, about 8 miles north of Ball's town, and near the road made by the Commissioners: The south part of the lot is watered by the north or main branch of Kayaderos Creek, on which there is a considerable quantity of excellent low land, and conveniences for mills.

Lot No. IV in XXIIIrd Alotment, 1443 acres, the northerly end of which lies on both sides of Hudson's river.

Lot No. XIII in the XXIVth and lot no. I in the XXVth Alotment, lying to the westward of Wing's mill—they adjoin each other, and are twice intersected by the south-west branch of Hudson's river, and contain together 2025 acres, with a fine fall for the convenience of mills; the northern parts consist of low land.

The above descriptions, and the information to be procured at Ball's town, Schenectady, Saraghtoge, and other places in the vicinity of these lands, may direct the purchasers to the lots they are inclined to view, and examine. The map of the whole patent is filed in the Town Clerk's Office, at Albany, with all the proceedings upon the partition, and another copy in the Secretary's Office at New-York.

The purchasers of the above lots will have nothing to pay for quit rent, there being a parcel of the patent set off for that purpose, and charged with the annual payment of the whole lot over.

The proprietors will expect a part of the purchase money at the execution of the deeds, and give a reasonable time for the payment of the remainder; and exact no other security than the purchaser's bond and mortgage, and will rebate the interest on what may be advanced before the pay day.

Such as choose to purchase any of the above-mentioned lots, may apply to the subscribers in New-York.
